MASSILLON MINERS MAY YET WIN THEIR FIGHT.

Board of Arbitration Still Working for Peace—Boston Strikers Confident of Victory—Carpenters To Meet in Cleveland, Ohio, and Discuss Mutual Interests.

MASSILLON, Ohio, Sept. 25.—Hearing the coal operators had reissued orders to bring the negro miners to Massillon the full board of arbitration arrived here at noon yesterday to make a final effort to reconcile the two sides. The members are acting as mediators rather than arbitrators, and after being closeted with the leading mine owners and mine workers all afternoon think they have made some progress. The conference will continue to-day.

THE STRIKE IN BOSTON.

Garment Workers Likely to Succeed—No Change at New Bedford.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 25.—The striking garment workers gained their first victory yesterday when eight contractors signed the agreement proposed by the strikers and gave the requisite bonds. As a result nearly 1,000 men and women returned to work. Twenty other contractors have signed the agreement and will at once file their bonds, and it is expected by to-night fully 2,500 operatives will be at work.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 25.—The sixth week of the strike of the cotton operatives in this city, began yesterday with no change in the situation. No signs of weakening are shown by either side. The Weavers' Union had aided 700 families thus far.

THE TAZEWELL COUNTY RIOTERS.

PEKIN, Ill., Sept. 25.—The attention of the Circuit court of Tazewell county was taken up yesterday in hearing the motion for change of venue in the rioting cases of John Gehr and other miners who participated in the destruction of Little Brothers' mine buildings. Both sides were argued at length and then the reading of the affidavits on the part of the defense, in which over 500 citizens of the county swore it was their opinion that the defendants could not procure a fair trial. Over 800 counter affidavits were filed by the attorneys for the defendants.

Carpenters to Meet at Cleveland.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 25.—Cleveland, Ohio, will get the next national convention of the carpenters and joiners. This was decided yesterday by a vote of 47 for Cleveland and 36 for Brooklyn, N. Y. The platform adopted favors governmental ownership of all public corporations, woman suffrage, the liability clause, the referendum and initiative, compulsory education and opposes child labor.

DRAYTON DIVORCE CASE.

Defendant Allowed Till Oct. 6 to File Answer to Her Husband's Charges.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The friends of Mrs. Drayton are very greatly surprised at the publication of a dispatch from Trenton, N. J., stating that the time for filing an answer to her husband's suit expired Sept. 6 and that no reply had been filed. It is true that no reply has yet been filed and that the time originally set for the filing has expired, but Alva H. Clark, counsel for Mr. Drayton, says that an agreement was made with Mrs. Drayton's counsel extending the time to Oct. 6. This time can only be extended further, according to Mr. Clark, by counsel for the defense making application to the chancellor and proving reasonable grounds for delay. The defense, however, claims the right to file an answer even after the testimony in the ex parte case has been taken.

THERE WERE THREE CYCLONES

Friday's Devastation Was Not the Work of a Single Twister.

SPRING VALLEY, Minn., Sept. 25.—That there were at least two and probably three twisters responsible for the work of destruction and death Friday night seems conclusive upon examination. While several points were struck at about 10 o'clock, Burr Oak, a village near Osage and to the southwest of Leroy, was visited at 11 o'clock, and it does not seem likely one cyclone would make such a complete circle and last from 9:45 to 11 o'clock in a radius of eight miles. Furthermore, Leroy was struck at 9:45 o'clock and Cresco, Iowa, on the southeast, at almost if not precisely the same moment, so that it is quite clear that these were separate cyclones.

ALGONA, Iowa, Sept. 25.—Nine additional victims of Friday's cyclone have been reported in this vicinity.

FIRE SUFFERERS' NEEDS.

Clothing, Food and Furniture Among the Articles Now Wanted.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 25.—Major William Mahoney, assistant quartermaster-general, has returned from his trip through the fire-swept district in the northern part of the state. Major Mahoney says the reports of the destruction and suffering have not been exaggerated. It is estimated there are in all 3,000 people outside of Phillips who need help. The greatest need at present, Major Mahoney says, is feed for horses and cattle.

There is not a blade of grass or a green twig in the burned country, and in many cases farmers who saved their homes lost their hay and grain stacks and wood-piles. It will be necessary to help them. The people need furniture, particularly chairs, tables, and bedsteads.

CAN NOT BACK OUT.

China Wants to Compromise, But Japan Insists on War.

TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 9, via San Francisco, Sept. 25.—China is willing to agree to a compromise, according to well authenticated rumors, but Japan insists on war. A great fleet of transports, carrying 40,000 troops, is to sail in three days from Japan. Its destination is a carefully guarded secret, but there is a rumor an attempt will be made to march direct to Pekin from some convenient point on the Chinese coast. All news relating to movements of the army or navy is rigidly suppressed here, but troops are marching night and day to the various rendezvous and a military railway system connecting the principal arsenals and forts is being built hurriedly.

Platt, teacher of the Indian school on the Temecula reservation by Francisco Gamsu, an Indian lad, who, after horribly mutilating the woman, set fire to the schoolhouse, in which the crime was committed, her charred remains being found in the ruins the following day. The murderer was only 16 years old. He has not yet been arrested.

MOUNT STERLING, Ill., Sept. 25.—William Konkling, a beardless farmer boy of 20, attempted single-handed to rob the bank of Bloomfield, Skiles & Co., in Mount Sterling at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. He had a black mask and a double-barreled shotgun, which he was not afraid to use. After scaring the cashier nearly to death he got a package of bills and attempted to escape. He did not escape, but he had a great run, a chance to shoot at people and to be shot at, and he was finally hit under the fifth rib by a brick and disabled, and then captured by a man with a revolver. Konkling is the son of a respectable farmer.

Open the Will of Ex-Gov. Kirkwood.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Sept. 25.—The will of Ex-Gov. Kirkwood was made public yesterday. His personal effects, homestead and $1,000 a year go to his widow during her life. At her death this, with $10,000, will fall to his adopted daughter, Mrs. Prichard. The remainder of his estate, probably worth $20,000, will be invested and the interest thereon will be paid to the Woman's Relief Corps of Iowa City for a period of five years, after which the full amount will go to the State University of Iowa.

Telegraph Operator Under Fire for the West Portal Tunnel Collision.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Sept. 25.—A. W. Hodgkins, the West Portal telegraph operator alleged to be responsible for the recent railroad tunnel collision, was given a hearing yesterday before the District court. Hodgkins pleaded not guilty to the charge of manslaughter. Operator Crosier admitted he had been discharged on two occasions in the last four months, once for sleeping at his post, thereby delaying a train thirty-five minutes. The night of the accident he forgot to report No. 19 to West Portal. The evidence created considerable excitement.

First New Orleans Fight a Draw.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 25.—Nearly 4,000 men gathered around the Olympic club arena last night to attend the opening fight of the three day carnival. It was a draw after twenty-five rounds.

It was for the bantam championship. Johnny Murphy of Boston and Billy Plummer of England were the contestants. Both men were fit and betting was active, with Plummer a slight favorite. The purse was $2,500, of which $500 to the loser.

Plummer had the best of the hitting, but the little Bostonian's gameness and generalship enabled him to stay twenty-five rounds.

To-night's fight is between Stanton Abbott and Jack Everhardt for a $2,000 purse.

WHITNEY HAS A BOOM.

May Be Named for Governor of New York State.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 25.—There is not a man versed in the ways of conventions of political parties that ever saw a situation like that which confronts the democratic conventions which meets to-day. The predication was explained at 9 o'clock last night in a very few words by Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan. He said:

"There is not a man or politician here who knows who the nominee of the party will be until the convention meets. It is possible that there will be a repetition of the convention of 1876 when the galleries nominated Seymour for governor, he afterward declining to run, Robinson being selected as the candidate."

Tammany's braves struck the village yesterday afternoon. Several of their delegates were seen in regard to the placing of Tammany's strength, and every man favors William C. Whitney. When asked as to the "Flower boom" they seemed to be unanimous enough, but expressed little hope of his retracting his withdrawal. Judge Gaynor has withdrawn from the convention.

For lieutenant-governor the name most prominently mentioned is that of Frederick Cook, who, it is said, will accept the place under Mr. Whitney, but under nobody else. If any other name is presented to the convention and nominated, then the nominee will be ex-Senator Linton of Ulster.

For judge of the Court of Appeals, Spencer Clinton of Buffalo has the call, but D. Cady Herrick of Albany is mentioned as a very probable candidate to appease the anti-machine men.

TRINITY'S JUBILEE
A JOYOUS AFFAIR.IT CROWNS HALF A CENTURY OF GOOD WORK.

Bishop and Twenty Clergymen Present at the Blessing of the New Rectory—History of the Venerable Janesville Church Reviewed by the Rev. W. H. Wotton.

Back through fifty years runs the history of Trinity church. Many good works have been wrought in that time, but never have her people shown more ardor than in celebrating her semi-centennial today. They have many things to cheer them—an eloquent pastor, a growing congregation and substantial evidences of increased zeal. All these were brought to mind by the jubilee service this morning. Twenty clergymen in robes of white joined in the services, and the church was filled with worshippers. The lesson of the day was read by Rev. Fayette Durlin, of Madison, and the history of Trinity church was graphically reviewed by Rev. W. H. Wotton. Mr. Wotton said:

How Trinity Church Grew.

The organization of Trinity parish was effected on the 18th day of September, 1844. Previous to this, occasional church services had been held in the town by the Rev. Richard C. Allen, then stationed at Green Bay. The Rev. T. J. Ringer, a missionary of the domestic board, and the first rector of the parish, presided at the meeting for organization. I. Woodle was secretary. The first officers of the parish were, Messrs. W. Lupton, Jr., and J. B. Doe, junior warden, and General Wm. B. Sheldon, A. Hyatt Smith, Jno. J. R. Pease, Guy Stoughton, Joseph Croft, A. S. Wood, A. C. Bailey and Isaac Woodle. The first treasurer of the parish was A. Hyatt Smith. In the following year J. B. Doe became senior warden, and held the office with unfailing loyalty, until his death. The first services in the parish were held in a small brick house, between what is now the Park hotel and Milwaukee street, but from 1848 the parish made use of the academy, a stone building on the site of the present Central school. The question of building a church was agitated for several years before any decisive action was taken. General W. B. Sheldon and A. Hyatt Smith both offered lots for the purpose. Mr. Smith's offer was accepted, but the lots were finally lost through failure of the parish to build according to agreement. The first really practical step towards the erection of a new church building was taken at a meeting held at the house of John Kimball. At this meeting were present Messrs. Andrew Palmer, J. B. Doe, Hyatt Smith and Dr. John Mitchell. The actual necessity of a church building was urged; and to make the matter binding, a subscription amounting to $600 was then and there made. Hyatt Smith gave the lot upon which the church now stands; and in July, 1847, the building was consecrated. In June of the same year (1847) the primary convention of the diocese of Wisconsin met in St. Paul's church, Milwaukee, and organized the diocese. The next convention was to be held in Trinity church, Janesville, and under this incentive the new parish put forth great efforts to have the building ready for occupancy by that time. It was finished at cost of about $4,000, and in time to receive the convention which held its sessions in this building, to the great joy and gratification of the parishioners.

Vestry Meeting in the "Big Mill."

"Until this time the vestry meetings have been held in an office adjoining a large mill which stood where the post office now stands and in which Messrs. Hyatt Smith and J. B. Doe were interested. M. S. Prichard now became a member of the vestry and Mr. Doe was treasurer of the parish. The delegates to the diocesan convention held as above were Messrs. J. B. Doe, Andrew Palmer, A. Hyatt Smith and E. L. Roberts.

"The first organ owned by the parish was purchased in New York in 1845 at an expense of $350, by J. B. Doe and by him presented to the parish, the latter paying the cost of transportation. It was used in the academy building for two years. The first choir consisted of Mrs. Doe as organist, Mr. Doe blow boy, the Misses Amanda and Alma Loudon, and the Misses Dimock, F. N. Loudon and E. Dimock.

"The church was at first a plain, square building without ornament. The tower stood out from the front wall and the entrance was by pointed doors on each side, ushering one directly into the main building. Inside the walls were of plain white. The windows were painted as now but the glass was uncolored. There were two side aisles, and the seats were high, with straight backs. The pews, having rows extended along both east and west sides of the chancel, which then was not recessed. The aisles only were carpeted. The chancel had a single desk standing far back in the center and serving both as a lectern and pulpit. Behind this a curtain was hung which concealed the rector when he was robing. It was intended to have a stairway behind this curtain leading to a vestry room in the basement. Before this desk the altar was placed, and in front of it was a very high railing. The church was lighted with gas, the standards rising from the pews along the sides. The organ was in a recess in the tower, elevated some eight feet above the floor, and the choir was modestly protected by a curtain drawn in front of them; the building was heated by stoves.

Pews Sold Outright.

"The question of finance was met in a somewhat peculiar manner. The pews were originally sold, deeded to occupants, and then assessed to certain per centage on the valuation to pay the expenses of the parish. The following were the original pew holders: A. Hyatt Smith, Jackman and Lewis; M. B. Edson, Dr. John Mitchell, Andrew Palmer, F. N. Loudon, L. E. Stone, Charles De Ro, Hamilton Richardson, J. H. Ogilvie, E. V. Whiton, D. F. Kimball, James Brown, Thomas Lappin, E. L. Robert, John Kimball and J. B. Doe.

"The sale of the pews, was unfortunate for the parish, assessments were not paid, and when the pews were forfeited for non payment, it was a cause of offense. In course of time, however, the greater part of the pews were forfeited, and the few remaining pew owners voluntarily released. The following persons did an excellent service to the parish by deeding their pews back to it without consideration: Dr. Mitchell, Andrew Palmer, Isaac Woodle, F. N. Loudon, Lewis E. Stone, J. H. Ogilvie, E. M. Cooley, E. V. Whiton, M. S. Prichard, Thomas Lappin, Phoebe Barker, E. L. Roberts, John J. R. Pease, J. B. Doe, J. A. Wood and Timothy Jackman and so it came about that in January 1854 the parish again owned all the pews in its building. The parish now tried the free church system for a time, but not with such a success as to secure its continuance. The church was made free in July 1854. Charles Norton was chosen to circulate a subscription paper to procure pledges to sustain the worship of the parish. The name of Mr. Norton is one of the most highly honored in the history of the parish. He was a bachelor lawyer, having two brothers in the holy priesthood. He became a vestryman in 1854. He was very liberal in his gifts to the parish, at one time giving $1,500 towards paying a debt. He also gave very liberally every year to missions. At his death he left $2000 to St. John's Home, Milwaukee. The private communion service silver is in memory of him.

First Years of the Church.

"The early growth of the church was gradual. Being so early in the field and having the first church building were not the advantages one would have supposed. The Rev. Mr. Ruger was first on the grounds, but in the fall of the same year Methodist and Congregationalist services were commenced. As already stated, Mr. Ruger was a member of the domestic board and the parish did not greatly add to his annual stipend of $300. At an early day he purchased a small house, standing on the site of the present residence of his son, William Ruger. To this he added a large body of land, bought from the government, and occupied considerable time in cultivating it which added to his meager stipend. Father Ruger, as he was affectionately called, was held in high repute as a priest and a citizen. He was a layer of foundations, and the man who does this well, can do little more. He had charge of the parish from 1844 to 1855, the longest rectorship in its history.

Father Ruger was succeeded by the Rev. J. W. Coe, who was rector of the parish from September 1855 to June 1859. His baptisms reached the large number of 174 and the confirmations 52. He was followed by the Rev. L. L. Eldredge, who came to the parish from Nashotah, March 1, 1860, and owing to ill health remained only six months, removing to California where he died two years later.

"The Rev. H. M. Beers was the next rector. He accepted on the 28th of March, 1860, and remained rector until February 13, 1865. He made a deep impression on the parish. He was a man of experience, affable in manner, with an almost magnetic personal influence, and an admirable preacher. The services were more numerously attended and the income larger under his ministration than ever before. The church was greatly improved under his rectorship. The vestibule was added and the choir removed to its proper place in the chancel. The vestry room was built and the chancel arrangements, including the solid oaken furniture, and marble altar were added. The interior of the church was largely remodeled. The ceiling was raised and the moulding put in the walls were tinted, stained glass was put in the windows, and the font procured. These improvements, however, left the parish with a debt of $700, but in spite of this, and following the sagacious counsel of the rector, the courage of the vestry was equal to the building of what is now the old rectory, at a cost of $1,600, which was paid for when completed. Dr. Conover writes that this building of the rectory was one of the wisest acts ever done by the parish.

Old Rectory a Source of Strength.

"It strengthened the parish, and the debt was more easily paid after the rectory was built. The deduction as to the wisdom of the parish to-day in completing our handsome new rectory as a memorial of our jubilee year, is apparent. In 1864 the Rev. Mr. Beers obtained leave of absence for six months, and went to the war as chaplain of what was known as the Barstow regiment. He resigned his rectorship on February 13, 1865. He was succeeded by the Rev. Fayette Durlin. Before accepting, June, 1865, Mr. Durlin had been once called to the parish, and declined. His rectorship was not only marked in the history of the parish, but in the history of the church in the northwest. Mr. Durlin was strongly impressed with the duty of the church to educate her own children, and thoroughly found them in her faith and doctrine as 'once for all given to the church.' Accordingly, at an early period he established a successful night school in a building on Wall street, and out of this grew a well equipped parish school. Two lots were purchased on Jackson street, just opposite the church, and a two-story frame building erected in May, 1866. The boys occupied the lower and the girls the upper story of the building, and in its prosperous days the school numbered about sixty pupils. The existence of the school gave Mr. Durlin a solid foundation for the daily service which he instituted speedily. The scholars attended morning and evening prayer in the church. He further utilized the school by forming the first vested choir in the diocese. Some of our leading citizens obtained their academic instruction in this school. During his rectorship, Mr. Durlin also established the weekly celebration of the Holy Eucharist. The large organ was also purchased while he was rector of the parish, at a cost of $1,800, and the present heating arrangements introduced. With all the labor his school involved, Mr. Durlin maintained the reputation of a preacher of singular originality and power, and was faithful in his ministrations among the sick and needy, although assisted for a time by the Rev. W. E. Wright, now of Big Rapids in the diocese of western Michigan. Human nature could not long endure such an incessant strain. His health broke down and his resignation ensued on April 16, 1871. The number of confirmations under Mr. Durlin's rectorship was eighty-two.

Parish School Sold in 1874.

"The Rev. George Wallace became rector in June, 1871. He had in every way a successful rectorship and many now look back with great pleasure to his incumbency. The parish school was sustained for two years longer, when the burden of it bearing too heavily on the parish, the building and lots were sold in February, 1874, to E. J. Fifield for $1,500. Eventually the building was moved and now forms part of the Northwestern hotel, southeast corner of Academy street and the railway depot square. During Mr. Wallace's rectorship the middle aisle was opened, new pews put in and the church carpeted throughout. When the parish school was discontinued Mr. Wallace revived the Sunday school. He resigned his rectorship May 1, 1878.

"The Rev. Mr. MacLean succeeded Mr. Wallace on the third Sunday in July, 1878. The most marked event in the way of property improvement during his incumbency was the building of the chapel, which has constantly proved its value as one of the most useful possessions of the parish. It was built in the fall of 1878 at a cost of about $600. The parish is greatly indebted to Hiram Bump for his special interest in this improvement. During Mr. MacLean's rectorship the organ was rebuilt and enlarged at a cost of $500. For several years a mixed choir was sustained at an annual expense of $500. Mr. MacLean was greatly beloved in the parish and is always spoken of with great affection. He removed to Ypsilanti, Mich., in September, 1882. The Rev. Horace Yates followed with a brief incumbency from December, 1882 to July, 1884, and then followed a vacancy for eight months, during which services were held regularly by Mr. Doe as lay reader and with frequent ministrations by clergymen from abroad. The Rev. Dr. Conover assumed the rectorship September, 1874. He was a forcible and talented preacher and a scholar of no mean order. His rectorship, though marked by no special event was eminently successful, and he won for himself a deep hold on the affections of his parishioners. He resigned the charge in January, 1887. The rectorship of the Rev. James Slidell, which commenced in April, 1887 is yet too fresh in the memory of his numerous friends to need any special review at this time. Coming to the parish when it was heavily in debt, his enthusiasm and persistent energy simply lifted the parish over every obstacle, and his strong personality impressed itself deeply and wisely through the entire community. In the parish records there is a copy of a memorial presented to him by the vestry, which forcibly set forth the sincere regrets occasioned by his resignation in December 1891.

Building of the New Rectory.

"The Rev. Mr. Cawthorpe followed almost immediately and continued in charge of the parish until June 1893, when the parish again remained vacant until October 1, 1893 when the present rectorship commenced. The subject of a new rectory had been agitated more or less constantly by several preceding rectors. The present incumbent is reaping the benefit of their effort, to venture to hope and pray that he may be spared to continue in the enjoyment thereof for many years. The subject was formally discussed at a parish meeting on Easter Monday last. A committee was appointed, a lot was bought with money left the parish by the late Mr. Calf, plans were made and approved and finally on June 1st ground was broken and the rectory was built in time to receive the Episcopal blessing at this our Jubilee celebration.

"Such in brief is the history of Trinity. Doubtless there are many especially among the older parishioners who would readily recall many events which would seem deserving of mention in a parish history, but it is only possible on such an occasion to touch on the more salient points and that briefly. As to its larger history of individual spiritual nurture and growth, the rays of joy and gladness and those of tears and mourning which are associated in individual hearts with the name of 'Trinity,' our father in heaven has the record thereof. The seed sown has in many cases ripened and much of the harvest has been gathered by his kindly angel, Death. It may be that when another fifty years have swiftly passed away, some now here may still be members on earth of Trinity, but the large majority will have gone home, yet who knows whether, with those already in paradise, we may not join with those who shall be then on earth, and rejoice with them in the celebration of the centennial of Trinity."

PORTER, Sept. 25.—Wednesday October 10, is the date for the commencing of the conference of Latter Day Saints, to be held in the vicinity of the Wilder school house, and extensive preparations are being made.

BASE BALL SERIES AT MILTON

Three Games Between the Same Nine—
Hardware Store Burglarized.

MILTON, Sept. 25.—The Blue Diamonds and the "Freaks," a nine from Harmony, Johnstown, Lima and Milton, played the first of a series of three games for a purse of ten dollars, Friday afternoon. The Diamonds won by a score of 13 to 6 in an eight inning game. Darkness prevented the playing of a full game. Batteries Greene and Fuller, Davis and Palmer. The score at the end of the fourth inning was 4 each. Fuller struck out six and Palmer five. The Freaks were calcined five innings and the Diamonds three. All in all it was a lively game and well worth seeing. Crosley & Maxson's hardware store was burglarized on Friday night. The thieves got away with most of the pocket knives and razors in the stock, the firm losing about one hundred dollars' worth of goods. Entrance was effected through a rear window. The grain trade was booming last week, and if the rains had not stopped deliveries on Saturday, the receipts for the week would have been the largest of the season. Fetherston shipped nineteen cars of oats and barley, and Osborn two, representing fully twenty thousand bushels of grain. Market was easier on barley and oats. Bennett shipped a car of hay and Soverill & Porter shipped a car of tobacco. Mrs. Lucy Millard Vincent whose dangerous illness was noted in this column, died Thursday afternoon. The funeral was held Saturday morning at the Seventh Day Baptist church, Rev. E. M. Dunn officiating. Some samples of corn on exhibition about town indicate that the crop is not as much of a failure as farmers anticipated. In fact, many farmers claim that they have an average crop and a few state that they never grew better corn. The Milton Republican club now has a membership of 250, but there are almost as many more voters in the township who ought to join. Hand in your name to the secretary and be "in" it.

Attend the next club meeting. Mr. Robinson, a wholesale druggist, of Green Bay, was in the village Friday in company with C. F. Yates, the hustler for Morrison, Pluzumer & Co., of Chicago. Postmaster Morris and wife spent Sunday in Chicago. Druggist Clark and family drove over to Edgerton Sunday and spent the day as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke. Professor C. E. Crandall came up from Chicago Saturday, and will stay until Thursday, when himself and wife will return to the city. They expect to go to New York, and New England for a six week's trip the first of next month.

Mrs. A. A. Allen, widow of the late President Jonathan Allen, was in the village this week visiting friends. She is enroute from Oakland, California, to Alfred Center, N. Y. There was a great game of ball here Monday afternoon between the Farmers nine of Harmony and Johnstown, and Orcutt Milton and Hardscrabble nine. The former won by a score of 30 to 26. All the players with a single exception were married men. Batteries, Bans, Cunningham and Brotherton, Maxson, Marquart and Stone. Most of the players were farmers and inexperienced, which furnished much amusement for the spectators. Light frost here Sunday night, and a heavy one Monday night. Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Eda Crandall of this village, and Dr. Shepard, of Alfred Center, N. Y., on the 4th prox.

We have some but words of praise from Dr.

HIS UNCLE HELPED HIM.

And the Young Man Found Out the Value of Such a Relative.

A young man employed at the Cincinnati court house found himself in an embarrassing position the other night. He had an engagement to take a couple of young ladies to one of the theaters, and in donning his best suit forgot his pocketbook, which peacefully reposed in his everyday clothes. When he boarded a street car and the conductor demanded fare he became painfully aware of his pleasant situation. He managed to find a dime and street car ticket in his clothes and this afforded temporary relief. But the young ladies were new acquaintances and he could not well explain the situation and secure a temporary loan. Besides, young ladies hardly ever carry pocketbooks for such emergencies. And he in vain looked around for a friend who would accommodate him.

When the postoffice was reached a novel idea struck him. "We'll take another car here," he said. "I promised to mail two important letters for my sister, and she'll never forgive me if I neglect the matter." So they got off the car and the young man dashed into the postoffice and on to the nearest pawnshop. He carried a gold watch and soon had a loan on it, borrowing a cheaper watch to wear until he redeemed his own time-piece. Then he hurried back, and as the young ladies were patiently waiting he did not tell them about any trouble to get stamps. The young ladies thanked him for a very pleasant evening on their return, but they will not know everything until they read this. The watch was, of course, redeemed the next day.

TWO MORE Co-respondents.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The attorneys on behalf of Charles Glasscock in his suit for divorce against his wife, naming Senator Stewart as co-respondent, have asked leave to include the affidavit offered by Senator Stewart as evidence of the intimacy of Mrs. Glasscock with W. R. Abell and James S. Cobb, mentioned in these affidavits, these two persons thus being brought into the case as additional co-respondents.

New Yorker Shot Dead in a Duel. CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 25.—Louis C. Boyd, a wealthy young man from New York, arrived at Orizaba about two years ago and purchased a coffee plantation. He had trouble with a Mexican planter named Juan Boreaga over the question of boundary, and word has just reached here that the two men had a duel which resulted in Boyd being shot dead. Boreaga was seriously wounded.

A Foreigner's Confession. "So Jobson is married?" "Yes, and has married a woman with a quarrelsome disposition." "How do you know that?" "How do I know it? Why she belongs to the church choir."

SLEEPLESS AND RUN DOWN.

You Can't Hold Out Long This Way.

You Are Working Too Hard, and You Know

You Can Get Strong Without Stopping Your Work.

What the people want is to get over that weakness and tired feeling, that nervousness and sleeplessness without stopping their work. They can't afford to be idle. They must work.

And it is not necessary to rest. You can get well and strong without losing a day's work. There is a remedy so great and powerful in building up the system, strengthening the nerves and producing sleep, that it never fails. The following letter written and signed by Mr. Allen D. Place, of Hardwick, Vt., will tell you what to do:

"Last spring I was in a very feeble state of health, being all run down I could only work part of the time as I had very little strength. My nerves were terribly weak and I could not sleep. I had been failing for two years, gradually getting worse.

"I told my wife I must have some thing to help me right away. Seeing Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy advertised I had faith enough in it to try it. I had not taken a quarter of a bottle before I felt the good results.

FINE MEN RUINED
BY OFFICIAL POSITIONDR. TALMAGE TALKS ABOUT THE PLUTOCRATS.

The Conversion of Zaccheus and Its Relation to the History That Is Now Being Made in This Country—The Weak Are of God.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 23, 1894.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is now preparing to leave Australia for India, on his round-the-world tour, has selected as the subject for to-day's sermon through the press: "The Tax Collector's Conversion," the text being taken from Luke xix: 9, "This day is salvation come to this house."

Zaccheus was a politician and a tax-gatherer. He had an honest calling, but the opportunity for "stealings" was so large, the temptation was too much for him. The Bible says he "was a sinner"—that is, in the public sense. How many fine men have been ruined by official position! It is an awful thing for any man to seek office under government unless his principles of integrity are deeply fixed. Many a man, upright in an insignificant position, has made shipwreck in a great one. As far as I can tell, in the city of Jerico this Zaccheus belonged to what might be called the "Ring." They had things their own way, successfully avoiding exposure—if by no other way, perhaps by hiring somebody to break in and steal the vouchers. Notwithstanding his bad reputation, there were streaks of good about him, as there is about almost every man. Gold is found in quartz, and sometimes in a very small percentage.

Jesus was coming to town. The people turned out en masse to see him. Here he comes—the Lord of Glory—on foot, dust-covered and road-weary, limping along the way, carrying the griefs and woes of the world. He looks to be sixty years of age when he is only about thirty. Zaccheus was a short man, and could not see over the people's heads while standing on the ground; so he got up into a sycamore tree that swung its arm clear over the road. Jesus advanced amid the wild excitement of the surging crowd. The most honorable and popular men of the city are looking on, and trying to gain his attention. Jesus, instead of regarding them, looks up at the little man in the tree, and says, "Zaccheus, come down. I am going home with you." Everybody was disgusted to think that Christ would go home with so dishonorable a man.

I see Christ entering the front door of the house of Zaccheus. The king of heaven and earth sits down; and as he looks around on the place and the family, he pronounces the benediction of the text: "This day is salvation come to this house."

Zaccheus had mounted the sycamore tree out of mere inquisitiveness. He wanted to see how this stranger looked—the color of his eyes, the length of his hair, the contour of his features, the height of his stature. "Come down," said Christ.

And so, many people, in this day, get up into the tree of curiosity or speculation to see Christ. They ask a thousand queer questions about his divinity, about God's sovereignty, and the eternal decrees. They speculate, and criticize, and hang on to the outside limb of a great sycamore. But they must come down from that if they want to be saved. We can not be saved as philosophers, but as little children. You can not go to heaven by way of Athens, but by way of Bethlehem. Why be perplexed about the way sin came into the world, when the great question is how we shall get sin driven out of our hearts? How many spend their time in criticism and religious speculation! They take the Rose of Sharon, or the lily of the valley, pull out the anther, scatter the corolla, and say, "Is that the beautiful flower of religion that you are talking about?" No flower is beautiful after you have torn it all to pieces. The path to heaven is so plain that a fool need not make a mistake about it, and yet men stop and cavil. Suppose that, going toward the Pacific slope, I had resolved that I would stop until I could kill all the grizzly bears and the panthers on either side of the way. I would never have got to the Pacific coast. When I went out to hunt the grizzly bear, the grizzly bear would have come out to hunt me. Here is a plain road to heaven. Men say they will not take a step on until they can make game of all the theories that bark and growl at them from the thickets. They forget the fact that as they go out to hunt the theory, the theory comes out to hunt them, and so they perish. We must receive the kingdom of heaven in simplicity. William Pennington was one of the wisest men of this country—a governor of his own state, and afterward speaker of the house of representatives. Yet, when God called him to be a Christian, he went in, and sat down among some children who were applying for church membership, and he said to his pastor, "Talk to me as you do to these children for I know nothing about it." There is no need of bothering ourselves about mysteries when there are so many things that are plain.

Dr. Ludlow, my professor in the theological seminary, taught me a lesson I have never forgotten. While putting a variety of questions to him that were perplexing he turned upon me somewhat in sternness, but more in love, and said, "Mr. Talmage, you will have to let God know some things that you don't." We tear our hands on the spines of the cactus instead of feasting our eye on its tropical bloom. A great company of people now sit swinging themselves on the sycamore tree of their pride, and I cry to you, "Zaccheus, come down!" Come down out of your pride, out of your inquisitiveness, out of your speculation. You can not ride into the gate of heaven with coach and four, postilion ahead and lackey behind. Except ye become as little children ye can not enter the kingdom of God. God has chosen the weak things of the world to confound the mighty. Zaccheus, come down! come down!"

I notice that this tax-gatherer accompanied his surrender to Christ with the restoration of property that did not belong to him. He says: "If I have taken anything by false accusation, I restore four-fold." That is, if I have taxed any man for $10,000 when he had only five thousand dollar's worth of property, and put in my own pocket the tax for the last five thousand, I will restore to him four-fold. If I took from him $10 I will give him $40. If I took from him $10 I will give him $10.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been sent to Washington during the past few years as "conscience money." I suppose that money was sent by men who wanted to be Christians, but found they could not until they made restitution. There is no need of our trying to come to Christ as long as we keep fraudulently a dollar or a farthing in our possession that belongs to another. Suppose you have not money enough to pay your debts, and for the sake of defrauding your creditors you put your property in your wife's name. You might cry until the day of judgment for pardon, but you would not get it without first making restitution. In times of prosperity it is right, against a rainy day, to assign property to your wife; but if, in time of perplexity and for the sake of defrauding your creditor you make such assignment, you become a culprit before God, and you may as well stop praying until you have made restitution. Or suppose one man loans another money on bond or mortgage, with the understanding that the mortgage can lie quiet for several years, but as soon as the mortgage is given, commences foreclosure—the sheriff mounts the auction-block, and the property is struck down to at half price, and the mortgagee buys it in. The mortgagee started to get the property at half price, and is a thief and a robber. Until he makes restitution, there is no mercy for him. Suppose you sell goods by a sample, and then afterward send to your customer an inferior quality of goods. You have committed a fraud and there is no mercy for you until you have made restitution. Suppose you sell a man a handkerchief for silk, telling him it is all silk and it is part cotton. No mercy for you until you have made restitution. Suppose you sell a man a horse, saying it is sound, and he afterward turns out to be spavined and balky. No mercy for you until you have made restitution.

The way being clear, Christ walked into the house of Zaccheus. He becomes a different man: his wife a different woman; the children are different. Oh! it makes a great change in any house when Christ comes into it. How many beautiful homes are represented among you! There are pictures on the wall, there is music in the drawing room; and luxuries in the wardrobe; and a full supply in the pantry. Even if you were half asleep, there is one word with which I could wake you, and thrill you through and through, and that word is "home!" There are also houses of suffering represented, in which there are neither pictures nor wardrobe, nor adornment—only one room, and a plain cot or a bunk in a corner; yet it is the place where your loved ones dwell, and your whole nature tingles with satisfaction when you think of it and call it home. Though the world may scoff at us, and pursue us, and all the day we be tossed about, at eventide we sail into the harbor at home. Though there be no rest for us in the busy world, and we go trudging about, bearing burdens that well-night crush us, there is a refuge, and it hath an easy chair in which we may sit, and a lounge where we may lie, and a serenity of peace in which we may repose, and that refuge is home.

Up to forty years men work for themselves; after that, for their children. Now, what do you propose to leave them? Nothing but dollars! Alas! what an inheritance! It is more likely to be a curse than a blessing. Your own common sense and observation tell you that money, without the divine blessing, is a curse. You must soon leave your children. Your shoulders are not so strong as they were, and you know that they will soon have to carry their own burdens. Your eyesight is not so clear at once; they will soon have to pick out their own way. Your arm is not so mighty as once; they will soon have to fight their own battles. Oh! let it not be told on judgment day that you let your family start without the only safeguard—the religion of Christ. Give yourself no rest until your children are the sons and daughters of the Lord Almighty. Your son does just as you do. He tries to walk like you, and to talk like you. The daughter imitates the mother. Alas! if father and mother miss heaven the children will. Oh! let Jesus come into your house. Do not bolt the hall door, or the parlor door, or the kitchen door, or the bedroom door against him. Above all, do not bolt your heart.

Build your altar to-night. Take the family bible lying on the parlor-table. Call together as many of your family as may be awake. Read a chapter, and then, if you can think of nothing else besides the Lord's Prayer, say that. That will do. Heaven will have begun in your house. You can put your head on your pillow feeling that, whether you wake up in this world or the next, all is well. In that great ponderous Book of the Judgment, where is recorded all the important events of the earth, you will read at last the statement that this was the day when salvation came into your house. Oh, Zaccheus, come down! Come down! Jesus is passing by.

Pope Leo's Birds.

Pope Leo the Thirteenth keeps a number of birds in his library and in the alcoves of his reception room, says the San Francisco Argonaut. "You see," he once said to a foreign minister, "these birds are my diplomats. Whenever I receive any one here, he can only make a report as to amiability, and can seldom understand my words, because the chatter of these songsters drowns all that I say. The visitor can not tell what I say, and often can not tell whether I have even spoken."

The Peers' Bore.

By the death of old Lord Denman the British house of peers loses one of its greatest cranks. Whenever Lord Salisbury would get upon his legs to make a speech, Lord Denman would at once rise to address the house, with the deliberate object of talking down the marquis, says the San Francisco Argonaut. As he was stone deaf, he would pay no heed to expostulations on the part of his brother peers or of the lord chancellor as presiding officer, and was to be stopped from further utterance only by being dragged down into his seat by his long coat-tails.

I suppose that money was sent by men who wanted to be Christians, but found they could not until they made restitution. Russia May Interfere.
LONDON, Sept. 25.—A dispatch to the Times from St. Petersburg says: "It is reported here that Chinese marauders have attacked the station of the new Ussuri section of the Siberian railway, plundered the telegraph office and killed eight Russian employes. It is feared that the government will make this a pretext to interfere in the Korean struggle between China and Japan."

CURES OTHERS

M. W. SCOTT, Esq. of the U. S. Marshall's Office, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "For many years my wife has been a constant sufferer from indigestion, sick headache, nervous prostration and all other complaints that the female sex is heir to, and after trying many prescriptions and diets, with but little or no relief, I persuaded her to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' She was so out of heart that she thought the answer that it would be like all the rest—no good; but on my account, she said she would try it, so I got one bottle each, and before she had taken a drop, she felt that was benefiting her, and now thinks it the most wonderful remedy on earth for her sex, and recommends it to all suffering females. She has not been so well in ten years. I write this without any solicitation and with a free, good will, so that you may let all who may suffer know what it has done for her." Deft fingers, tireless brains, ceaseless energy and master workmanship, have evolved marvelously good things at surprisingly low prices for the season of 1894, and there isn't a suit in the whole of our magnificent stock that isn't the product of 1894.
